Message from the Publisher

While launching our new imprints, we have also shifted our focus for Visions of Black Life. We will review open submissions of poetry and short stories from aspiring contributors and select a variety for publication. This will include a spotlight feature for certain artists. To increase access to the wonderful works of VBL poets and short story authors, we will publish a special collection of the all of the works from the first four volumes of VBL, along with select new material in 2011. To keep pace with the trends in publishing, we also look forward to publishing the collection as e-book editions for the various e-book readers on the market, including the Amazon Kindle and the Barnes and Noble Nook.

Stay tuned and keep reading and writing!

Carolyn C. Williams,
President-COO
